

TAFT TO LEAVE JAPAN TONIGHT

Arrival At Kyoto At 7:30 This Morning Was Hailed With Shouting And The Salvos Of Aerial Bombs.

LUNCHEON WITH GENERAL KUROKI

Follows The Audience Of Yesterday With The Emperor--- Steamship "Minnesota" Will Sail For Nagasaki And Manila At 10 P. M.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Kobe, Japan, Oct. 2.—Secretary Taft and Mrs. Taft and their party arrived at Kobe at 7:30 this morning. With General Kuroki, Mr. Carpenter, the secretary of Mr. Taft, and Charlie Taft, they occupied a special car provided by the government. Mr. Taft was fatigued but in good spirits. The approach of the train to Kyoto was signalled by salvos of aerial bombs.

General Count Kuroki, the famous commander of the Japanese right army in Manchuria, met Mr. Taft on his arrival at Kyoto and invited the party to an informal luncheon, after which the male travelers visited many points of interest. Mrs. Taft, however, preferred to go shopping. The train with the Taft party left Kyoto at 6:35 p. m., and will arrive at Kobe at 8:50 this evening.

The party will be welcomed by the governor of Kobe and his staff and the officials of the United States consulate. The station and other buildings have been decorated in Mr. Taft's honor, where there will be a display of fireworks when he arrives, and after being driven to the pier the party will be taken in special launches on board the steamer, "Minnesota." There the formal farewells will be exchanged and the vessel will sail for Nagasaki and Manila at 10 p. m.

Official Farewell.
The American Secretary Officially bade farewell to Japan at 6:15 Wednesday evening and left the brilliantly decorated Shimbashi railroad station for Kobe amid the firing of an artillery salute and a great display of fireworks.

Officials of the government, including the heads of the army and navy departments, the staff of the American embassy and the municipal officers of Tokyo assembled on the platform to extend their best wishes for the health and success of the distinguished traveler during his tour around the world.

At noon Mr. and Mrs. Taft, accompanied only by Mr. Gen. Edwards, chief of the bureau of consular affairs, and Frederick W. Carpenter, Mr. Taft's private secretary, drove in an imperial carriage, escorted by a troop of cavalry, to the emperor's palace, with all the ceremony surrounding a royal reception.

Private Talk With Emperor.
Entering the audience room, accompanied by Gen. Edwards, Mr. Taft was greeted pleasantly by his majesty, who invited the secretary to accompany him to an adjoining room, where they conferred in private, with the aid of an interpreter, for ten minutes, after which they returned to the audience room.

While the private audience was in progress Mrs. Taft was received by the empress. Both their majesties showed great cordiality in their reception of the American visitors.

While no official statement of what transpired at the private audience was given out, it is understood that the emperor expressed his friendliness for America and his admiration of President Roosevelt, and that Mr. Taft assured him that those sentiments were reciprocated by the people of the United States.

Luncheon With Royalty.

After the audience Mr. and Mrs. Taft called on the crown prince, Yoshihito Harumichi, and upon Prince Fushimi, the emperor's cousin, and then returned to the palace. On their arrival there they were ushered into the banquet room, where a luncheon was served, the emperor and empress sitting on one side of the table with Mr. and Mrs. Taft opposite them. Gen. Edwards was seated some distance away on Mrs. Taft's right, and Mr. Carpenter was placed at the other side of the table on Mr. Taft's left.

The luncheon was elaborate, the banquet room being profusely decorated with American and Japanese flags and red, white and blue flowers. The favors were of silver exquisitely designed. After the luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Taft bade farewell to their majesties and returned to the Shiba palace, their headquarters.

Count Hayashi, the foreign minister, called on Secretary Taft at four o'clock and had a long conference with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Taft will spend part of Thursday at Kyoto, visiting the temples and tombs there, and will continue their journey to Kobe the same afternoon.

Uncle Sam—I'm gum swizzled! Trying to drive this hog keeps me pretty busy.

The meeting will be in session two days. The sessions tomorrow will be made notable by the presence of more than one hundred English and continental cotton manufacturers, who will arrive in the city tomorrow morning and spend the day as guests of the association.

Among the subjects that will be discussed at the present meeting are the following: "Inland Transportation of Cotton," "Loading and Shipment of Cotton," "Suggestions on Merchandizing the Mill's Product," "American Shipping on the Deep Sea," "Cotton Manufacturing and the Free World," "Economic Position of the New York Cotton Exchange and Its Relations to the Cotton Trade," "Effects in Cotton Mills," "Use and Abuse of Warp Stop Motions and Other Automatic Appliances on Power Looms," "Present and Future Conditions of Cotton Production and Manufacture in the United States."

OPEN BIDS FOR FOOD SUPPLIES FOR FLEET

Five Million Pounds of Provisions to Be Purchased For Big Fleet On Its Pacific Cruise.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—The Bureau of Supplies and Accounts of the Navy Department today opened bids for 5,000,000 pounds of provisions to be used by the 12,000 or more enlisted men during their coming cruise to the Pacific aboard the ships of the Atlantic fleet. The contracts will be awarded next week and the successful bidders will deliver the provisions at the New York Navy Yard early next month.

Each of the sixteen battleships of the fleet is to be allotted 250 tons of provisions, to carry which amount represents the full capacity of the ship. The supply ships Collier and Glacier will take what remains excepting a small allotment to each of the smaller vessels of the fleet. The supplies taken are only for the enlisted men. The officers must provide for themselves by private arrangements.

The major items comprising the 5,000,000 pounds of provisions are 1,000,000 pounds of fresh beef, 1,000,000 pounds of vegetables, including potatoes, turnips, onions, etc.; 1,000,000 pounds of flour; 500,000 pounds of canned fruits; 100,000 pounds of condensed milk; 400,000 pounds of peas; 400,000 pounds of canned vegetables, including lima beans, peas and corn; 200,000 pounds of ham; 100,000 pounds of coffee; 15,000 pounds of tea; 5000 pounds of pepper; 5000 pounds of salt; 5000 pounds of mustard and 40,000 dozen eggs.

ENGLISH SPINNERS ON VISIT OVER HERE

Representatives of Cotton Industry of England Start On Observation
Tour of South.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Oct. 2.—More than one hundred representatives of the great cotton industry as it exists in England and on the continent of Europe will leave the city tonight on a tour of observations that will carry them through a large section of the southern cotton-growing states. The foreign spinners arrived in New York several days ago and have passed the time in sight seeing.

The chief purpose of their visit to America at the present time is to attend the international conference of cotton growers and cotton spinners to be held in Atlanta next week. They will also attend a meeting in Washington tomorrow of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

The foreign delegates will leave Washington tomorrow night and resume their journey into the south. Their stops will be made at Charlotte and at Greenville, Atlanta being reached Sunday morning.

For the next three days in Atlanta conference will be in progress, the principal topics being: Advantages of Southern States of America for Cotton growing; closer trade relations between growers and spinners; better cotton by selection of seed, etc.; improved ginning, compressing, uniformity of bales, country damage, warehousing, transportation, insurance, uniform classification, contracts of exchange, equitable rate, stability of prices, buying for future delivery, speculation, government crop reports, statistics, permanent organization.

At the close of the conference the foreign delegates will push southward from Atlanta through Alabama and Mississippi to New Orleans. Two or three days will be spent in New Orleans and thence the trip will be continued to Houston and Galveston, Little Rock, Memphis, St. Louis, Chicago and Toronto, reaching New York in time to sail for home the first of the month.

Collier-Montague Wedding.
New York, Oct. 2.—Many persons of social prominence filled the Church of the Epiphany this afternoon for the wedding of Miss Amy Angell Collier and Gilbert Holland Montague. Mr. Montague had as his best man Joseph O. Proctor, Jr., of Boston, and the maid of honor was Miss Amy Aldrich, a cousin of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of the late Peter Collier, formerly chief chemist of the United States Agricultural department, and a niece of President James B. Angell of the University of Michigan. She is related by marriage to Lieutenant Governor Lewis Stuyvesant Chandler and to the family of the late secretary of state, Thomas F. Bayard.

Baltimore Will Benefit.
Baltimore, Md., Oct. 2.—The steamship Mobile sails from Antwerp today for this city, thus inaugurating a new regular service between Baltimore and the Belgian port. The service will be maintained by the Atlantic Transportation company, which already operates a line of steamships between Baltimore and ports in Great Britain.

PRESIDENT HAS TWO HOURS AT CAIRO

South Illinois Town Entertains Roosevelt This Morning—Delivers Speech in Park.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cairo, Ill., Oct. 2.—President Roosevelt spent two busy hours in Cairo today. A multitude thronged the streets and rent the air with cheers as the Mississippi pulled up at her landing. As the president walked down the gang plank and entered the carriage, accompanied by Governor Deneen, Mayor Parsons and J. S. Athorp, president of the Cairo Board of Trade, the crowd broke into cheers, which he promptly acknowledged. A number of carriages swung into line, while an escort of police and militia formed a guard.

All the business and residence streets were profusely decorated with flags and festoons. Pictures of the president were seen to be on all sides. The streets were packed with people and the demonstration kept the president busy bowing his acknowledgments. While the president was entertained at luncheon the crowd thronged St. Mary's Park, where the president and party resumed the river journey to Memphis.

It is expected the wedding will take place some time this autumn at Newport. The count is now at Newport, and is 28 years old, rich, and good looking, and has a hereditary seat in the Hungarian parliament. Miss Vanderbilt inherited from her father more than ten million dollars.

ROSA MODERATOR AT OSHKOSH TODAY

Next Meeting-Place of Congregational Church Convention Not Yet Chosen—Rev. Denison Coming Home Tomorrow.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oshkosh, Wis., Oct. 2.—Judge C. D. Rosa of Beloit was elected moderator of the State Congregational church convention today. The next place of meeting has not been decided upon.

Missionary Report.
The Wisconsin Home Missionary society, which has been holding a meeting in conjunction, re-elected old officers. Rev. G. R. Leavitt of Beloit is president, Rev. M. C. Blackman of Whitefish is treasurer, and Rev. Homer W. Carter of Beloit is secretary for three years. Most of the morning was devoted to the work of the missionary society. The treasurer's report showed that the amount received this year was $16,395; expenses of the year, $18,161.

Rev. Denison at Session.
Rev. C. Denison and John M. Whitehead, the two Janesville representatives at the convention, are expected home tomorrow.

Going To Canada: George M. Dooley is loading six carloads of tobacco today for Hamilton, Ontario.

WANT TO EXTEND DEEP WATERWAY TO THE GULF

Many Millions Have Been Expended On Drainage Canal, Part Of System Which Is 1,500 Miles Long.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 2.—In point of attendance and enthusiasm the second annual convention of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterway association, which assembles here tomorrow, will be the greatest demonstration of the supporters of the inland waterways movement, which assembles here tomorrow, will be the greatest demonstration of the supporters of the inland waterways movement, that has ever been held in America. The central figure at the convention will be President Roosevelt, who will arrive on the Mississippi tomorrow in time to deliver an address at the opening session. Delegates appointed by the boards of trade, chambers of commerce and similar organizations throughout the middle west and south, together with members of congress and celebrated engineers, are arriving on every train, and including the governors of a score of states and the members of the Inland Waterways commission, will arrive by boat tomorrow.

What The Work Is.

The great project in which all of these prominent men are interested and which has been undertaken by the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterways association, is the securing of a fourteen-foot stage of water, the year round, from New Orleans up the Mississippi river, and through the drainage canal to Chicago. This would be a navigable waterway about 1,500 miles long, of which the first forty-mile section, from Chicago to Joliet, has been practically completed at a cost approximately of $5,000,000. Plans have been completed for a second division from Joliet to St. Louis, a distance of 230 miles, the cost being fixed by engineers at $11,500,000.

The section of 186 miles from St. Louis to Cairo is at present under survey and will probably cost $75,000,000, according to the estimates of government engineers. From Cairo to the Red river, the last section of 746 miles, the only difficulty is the dredging out of a fourteen-foot channel. The state of Illinois has paid for the greater part of the building of the drainage canal to Joliet, and the association at its present convention will consider the advisability of asking the government to appropriate $10,000,000 a year for the five years, to carry on the work, or to issue bonds for the purpose.

Would Benefit Large Section.
The movement for the establishment

ment of a deep waterway from the great lakes to the gulf, though of comparatively recent origin, has attracted wide attention and has enlisted practically the solid support of the Mississippi valley states. Government engineers directed by congress to survey the proposed waterway have already reported that the project was feasible, and congress at its last session authorized the appropriation of $150,000 to defray the expense of the survey.

The benefits to be derived by a large section of the middle west and south by the completion of this great improvement scheme have been recognized and appreciated. All the states of the Mississippi valley have been prompt in their endorsement of the project, while the residents of sections more remote, but also standing to benefit immensely from such an enterprise, have not hesitated to voice their approval.

Prominent Men at the Convention.

In addition to President Roosevelt the speakers to be heard tomorrow include Lyman E. Cooley, an eminent civil engineer of Chicago; John L. Vance, president of the Ohio Valley Improvement association; Representative Theodore E. Burton, chairman of the Inland Waterways commission; Joseph W. Folk, governor of Missouri; Charles S. Deneen, governor of Illinois, and Albert B. Cummins, governor of Iowa. W. K. Kavanaugh, president of the association, will preside, and Governor Patterson of Tennessee, will welcome the distinguished visitors.

Speakers at the second day's session will include Governor Brooks of Wyoming, Chamberlain of Oregon, Broward of Florida, Burke of North Dakota, and Pfund of Arkansas.

At the banquet, which will conclude the convention, the speakers and their topics will be as follows: "The Pleasantry of American Life," Governor Henry A. Buchtel of Colorado; "Fourteen Feet Through the Valley," John Sharp Williams of Mississippi; "Kansas and Transportation," Governor Edward W. Hoch of Kansas, and "The Value to Louisiana of the Deep Waterway," Governor Newton C. Blanchard of Louisiana.

In addition to those named above it is expected that a number of other governors, congressmen and other public men will make informal talks during the two days the convention will be in session.

FORMER POSTMASTER GENERAL IS WEDDED

Charles Emory Smith and Miss Henrietta Nicholls United at Elberon, New Jersey.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Elberon, N. J., Oct. 2.—The marriage of Miss Henrietta Nicholls to Charles Emory Smith, former Postmaster General, took place here today.

Rained Sandwiches.

When hundreds of ham and chicken sandwiches fell at Eaglesmere, Pa., during a thunderstorm the other day folks wondered what miracle was being performed which should cause food to drop from the heavens. For 20 minutes the sandwiches fell, with now and then a chunk of chocolate cake to vary the monotony. Some olives and a few pickles came along, and now and then a pie. It was explained a few hours later, when a church picnic party came along and told how a tornado had ripped up things at the grounds. The tables had been set and the dinner bell was about to be sounded when a rip-sawing wind came down through the woods and carried off every bit of food. Strangely enough several layers of cake were left behind, and the women who baked them were humiliated. They said that some unkind persons might think they were too heavy.

STARTS SUIT TO GET A MATRIMONIAL FEE

Man Suing His Neighbor Whom He Secured A Wife For—Defendant Refuses To Pay.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Crandon, Wis., Oct. 2.—J. Boelter of Lacuin has started a novel suit against his neighbor, Anton Koket to recover $75 "for services in procuring for the said Anton Koket a wife." It appears that the defendant was at sea in matrimony and appealed to Boelter, who claims he induced an Antigone widow of means to marry Koket. Now, it is claimed, Koket ungallantly refuses to pay the one-man matrimonial agency.

Arkansas State Fair.
Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 2.—Governor Pfund officiated today at the opening of the Arkansas state fair. The crowd of visitors was exceptionally large for the opening day. The fair will continue for ten days and from present indications will be the most successful affair of its kind ever held in this state. A special program of attractions has been arranged for each day.

PRICE OF CHEESE IS GOING TO GO UP

Sheboygan Cheese Dealer Declares That Commodity Has Become A
"Staple Food."

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Sheboygan, Wis., Oct. 2.—John (Jack) Cuddy one of the best known cheese manufacturers in the west, is authority for the statement that there will be a big advance in cheese prices shortly. "After February 1," he says, "I do not doubt that cheese will bring 17 cents per pound. Cheese is no longer a 'delicatessen,' but it is a staple in every family. The consumption is beginning to exceed the production, and there will be a shortage I believe."

Good Luck.
"Human beings," said Uncle Eben, "is a heap like fishes. What looks like good luck very often turns out to be nothing but a piece of bait with a hook in it."—Washington Star.

STATE TO KNOW ALL THE FACTS

RELATING TO BIRTHS, ACCIDENTS, MARRIAGES, DIVORCES, AND DEATHS.

DRASTIC LAW NOW IN FORCE

Requires Prompt and Complete Reports by Physicians, Ministers and Others, with Heavy Punishment for Neglect.

Plain, haphazard, loose-you-please methods of reporting births, deaths, marriages, divorces, and accidents occurring within the borders of Wisconsin and the incomplete and therefore worthless statistics resulting therefrom, and heretofore collected at an expense totaling nearly $50,000 each two years, are things of the past. Physicians, ministers, midwives, county officials, undertakers, and others, who do not report within a specified time the statistics have come to their notice will be punished severely, the minimum fine provided being $20. The new law, Chapter 489, went into effect on Oct. 1 and Health Commissioner W. H. Merrill, who was in communication over the telephone with the office at Madison yesterday, learned that it would be enforced to the letter.

Bureau of Vital Statistics.
The law was passed to comply with a joint resolution of the Congress of the United States. It establishes in connection with the state board of health a bureau for the proper and complete registration of all these statistics, the county system having been demonstrated here and elsewhere to be an utter and absolute failure. The secretary of the state board of health is designated as the State Registrar and charged with the uniform and thorough enforcement of the law. The health officers in cities, the town clerks in towns, and the village clerks in incorporated villages, are charged with the duty of knowing and reporting by investigation and making returns for all births, deaths, marriages, and accidents for each month, on or before the 7th day of the following month. Exact copies of the certificates must be preserved and filed by them as a permanent record.

Practitioners Must Register.
On or before the first day of October, 1907, it is also stipulated that all physicians, midwives, and undertakers practicing in the state shall register his or her name and occupation with the town clerk in towns and villages, and the health officer in cities, of the town, village, or city in which he or she resides.

Their Duties Defined.
Births must be reported by the attending physician or midwife to the local registrar within five days after date. Inability to obtain for record all the facts required will not be considered a sufficient excuse for failure to file within the allotted time. If the child is not named, the registrar must deliver to the parents a special blank for the supplemental report of the given name of the child. Such report must be returned to the registrar as soon as the child is named.

The fullest information concerning deaths is required, and the undertakers are held responsible for filing the certificates with the local registrar. Ordinarily the undertakers must obtain the information required over the signature of a relative or other person qualified to supply the facts. A satisfactory certificate must be presented before a burial permit may be issued and no body of any person whose death occurs in this state may be interred or deposited in a tomb, removed from the district, or others who disposed of, until the permit has been issued. The undertaker must deliver the permit to the sexton and the sexton is required to keep a full record of all interments and return the permits to the local registrar.

Accidents happening within the person for two weeks or more must be reported to the local registrar by the attending physician within 30 days after date.

All persons who perform the marriage ceremony must report to the proper officer within three days after the date of the ceremony. The county clerk is required to obtain the most detailed information of parties applying for a marriage license, the maiden names of mothers, birthplaces, occupation, and other details entering into the "qualification." Residents of the state who marry in another state and return here to reside must obtain from the clerk of the county in which either formerly resided a certificate of marriage, which they shall cause to be properly filed out and filed with the local registrar of vital statistics.

On the 30th of September, each year, the clerk of every court having jurisdiction of divorces, full details regarding each suit for the annulment or marriage brought or acted upon by the court during the preceding year.

The Fees.
There is no change in the fees. Physicians, midwives, ministers, court commissioners, judges or courts of record, justices, and other persons qualified to act as informants are to receive 25 cents for each birth, death, marriage, and accident, the certificate for which is found in due form and accepted. The state registrar must certify these fees before they can be paid by the county treasurer. The local registrar is to receive 15 cents for each item in the statistics copied by him and returned to the state registrar.

OBITUARY.

Elmer Wilsing.
After a long and painful suffering from appendicitis, Elmer Wilsing, aged 14 years, passed away at the Storer hospital at three o'clock this morning. It was at first considered best not to operate upon him but his condition became so precarious Sunday that the attending physicians decided to perform the operation as the only means of effecting recovery. The disease was so far advanced that it seemed impossible for him to get well. Elmer was the oldest of a family of seven children whose mother depended extensively upon his earnings to support the home family. He was a helper at the Hotel Myers and together with his wages and tips he contributed considerably to the family coffers at the end of each month. He was of a pleasant disposition and was popular among his co-workers and patrons of the hotel. The funeral will be held from the chapel in Oak Hill cemetery at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The Rev. J. W. Laughlin will officiate.

Call on Dec. wheat, $1.02 1/2.

Market Letter
The N. M. Kent Co., N. E. Wheaton, manager, makes the following analysis of the market:

WHEAT—Opened higher on better Liverpool cables and with a good general demand and rather moderate offerings continued strong to the close, which was about best price for the day. The inconsistency of the market is shown by the fact that although nothing but bid news was received all day yesterday, yet the market lost a cent from the high point, while today, in the absence of much bid news, the market shows a two-cent advance. In a general way the market is only a scalping one; i. e., a sale on bulge and a purchase on break are about present values.

CORN—Showed strength on prospects of cooler weather following rains. It is hardly likely that much if any further damage can be done to corn and like oats it is only a question of supply and demand. Corn is a purchase only on good breaks.

PROVISIONS—Quiet with little interest evident in the market.

TO KEEP HAIR-DRUSH CLEAN.

Case of Embroidered Linen Pretty and Serviceable.

A pretty case of embroidered linen, like the one shown in the sketch, will keep a hair-brush clean for a long time, and is useful also when traveling. It should be made in a good full shape, edged with silk cord, and drawn up with ribbons round the handle of the brush, so that it may be hung on a corner of the looking-glass. In cream linen, embroidered with pink roses and tied with pink ribbons, this case would look very pretty. Or it might be made in pale blue linen, with the roses and the ribbon in white, or in any other colors to harmonize with the curtains or the general decoration of the room.

WATCH FOR MITTEN SLEEVE.

Promises to Be Generally Worn on Autumn Frocks.

The short sleeve frock has been carried to the point of caricature and has had a long career. So some change is due, and while the short sleeve will unquestionably be much worn throughout the summer and will always have its place for certain types of dress, it seems probable that we shall see the mitten sleeve upon a great many of the dressy frocks in the autumn.

The upper part of the new sleeve is usually but little changed, though some lovely sleeve designs are in such sheer material as chiffon or not lined tucked in horizontal lines along the inner arm down to a point just below the elbow and fall in a drooping clinging puff so far down, while below the elbow the sleeve fits closely and some form of short cap or kimono drooping forms an outer sleeve.

Even when the sleeve is short the tucked and soft falling sheer puff is liked. The best of the new tailored frocks show a disposition toward long sleeves.

DARK COLORS FOR FALL.

Somber Shades Will Supersede the Light Ones of Summer.

In the fall the colors that will be most generally worn will be dark ones. Tans and grays have outlived their popularity, and will be superseded by somber colors, principally dark green.

Plain effects will be most in vogue, and if any stripes, checks or plaids are worn they will be dressed in a herringbone weave. The only exception to this rule will be the Scotch effects, which will be worn to some extent, but not by those who endeavor to keep strictly up to date. Such stripes as will become popular will be of the nondescript variety, almost invisible, and set against a dark background.

Broadcloth in somber colors will hold its own, as will also serges, worsted suitings, velvets, velveteens and corduroys. Chiffon, panamas and velvets will also be much affected, but cottons will not be so popular this season.

Outdoor Gloves.
The ever increasing feminine love of outdoor sports has brought upon the market many models in golfing, driving and walking gloves, to say nothing of several varieties of motor gauntlets. This latter is most popular when fashioned of buckskin, with leather palms, and may be had in most of the shades of gray and tan as well as black and white. The favorite golfing glove is in tan or gray ventilated doekin closely fitted to the wrist by elastic, which keeps the glove in position, while leaving the hand entirely free. A good driving glove may be purchased either with or without gauntlet and is something on the lines of the golfing glove, being kept taut at the wrist by means of a strap, leaving the hand quite loose.

New Jabots.
As regards collars there is nothing really new. The deep turnover collar of embroidered linen with knotted ties or the nearest of bows are affected, and a novelty for silk and muslin shirts are jabots of Irish lawn embroidered with fans of lawn plisse on either side of the front, the ends being of spotted foulard edged with lace. This combination is effective and others not less attractive are made of muslin and Irish crocheted lace, which is much used in the fashioning of lingerie as well as jabots.

Take Care of the Veil.
Never leave the veil tied round a hat, for it soon becomes stretched, limp and soiled looking. Unpin it when the hat is removed, shake it, take it at the two ends and roll it round and round, then place away in a box or piece of tissue paper.

PRESIDENT BOOSTS THE SHIP CHANNEL

DECLARES THE LAKES TO GULF PLAN IS A NATIONAL TASK.

WARNS AGAINST JOBBERY

Roosevelt, at St. Louis, Says Interstate Corporations, Especially Railroads, Must Be Under Sovereign Control.

St. Louis, Oct. 3.—President Roosevelt in a speech here Wednesday declared it the nation's duty to restore the Mississippi river to its proper place as a great artery of commerce, and termed the proposed 14-foot channel from the lakes to the gulf a "national task." He warned against plans which might "entail reckless extravagance or be tainted with jobbery," but urged a liberal waterway policy.

The president's order was not diminished by the fact that he was drenched by a sudden downpour of rain while en route to the Jal Alai building where his speech was delivered.

Ovation on His Arrival.
A tremendous ovation was accorded the national executive when his steamer, the Mississippi, entered St. Louis harbor to make the first stop on the voyage from Keokuk to Memphis, where President Roosevelt will attend the convention of the Deep Waterways association on Friday. Thousands of persons had congregated on the levee to witness the president's arrival and were held in check by cordons of police and companies of soldiers from Jefferson barracks. Amid a clamor of shrieking whistles, clanging bells and cheers from the masses assembled, the president landed and was greeted by 15 governors from states bordering upon the Mississippi river and some from distant states, members of congress and officials representing the city of St. Louis.

Through a sudden heavy downpour of rain the president, standing in an open carriage and bowing to the multitude, was driven to the Jal Alai building, five miles from the river, where he delivered his speech.

Central Control of Corporations.
The president took occasion to especially emphasize his views on the necessity for central control of interstate corporations, and he frequently departed from his manuscript to elaborate and make clear his views on that point. His contention was that there must be some sovereign that can control these institutions, especially railroads.

He spoke at length of the difficulty of reaching the corporations which are incorporated in one state and operate in another. He instanced especially his experience in getting the Southern Pacific railroad to repair breaks in the Colorado river. "That disaster occurred in California," he said, "but do you suppose I found it possible to deal with the railroad there? No. The railroad is a New Jersey corporation and I had to deal with it as such."

He contended that the constitution must be interpreted to fit modern day conditions and not conditions that existed when it was adopted.

"It must be construed as an instrument of life and not a symbol of death," he said, epigrammatically.

Speaking of the improvement of the Mississippi river, he warned the advocates of that interest against fundamentally considered local improvements. "The waterways system must be treated as a whole and the enterprise must not be tainted with either folly or dishonesty."

President Roosevelt was introduced by Gov. Folk of Missouri in a brief speech. "I introduce to you," he said, "President Roosevelt, patriot, American and man."

As the president advanced to speak the audience arose, cheering and waving flags for three minutes.

Luncheon at the Jefferson.
At the conclusion of the president's address he and the party of distinguished guests hurried to waiting carriages and were taken at a gallop to the Jefferson hotel, where they were the guests of the St. Louis Business Men's League at luncheon. Covers were laid for more than 400 guests. There were no set speeches.

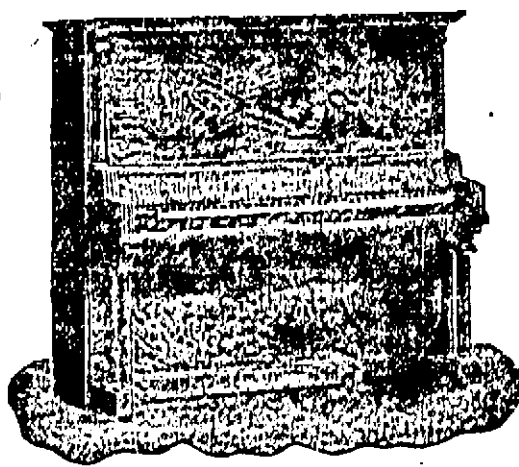

The party was scheduled to leave the hotel at 2:30 o'clock, but the president did not enter his carriage until after three o'clock. The Mississippi cast off her moorings shortly after four o'clock, an hour behind schedule time. She was followed by the United States steamer Col. McKim, carrying the members of the inland waterways commission; the Alston, bearing the governors of 15 states; the Tennessee, chartered for 36 visiting congressmen; 16 other large steamboats, and a host of smaller craft.

Striking Boys to Lose Jobs.
Toledo, O., Oct. 3.—The 200 boys who struck at the Libby Glass works, causing 500 men to remain idle, will not only fail to receive increased wages, but will lose their jobs. There will at once be a reorganization of the force by which boys will not be employed and their places will be taken by a fewer number of men.

Rockefeller Leaves Cleveland.
Cleveland, O., Oct. 3.—John D. Rockefeller left Cleveland Wednesday afternoon for his winter home in the Pocahontas hills. He was accompanied by Mrs. Rockefeller and other members of his family.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

TAKES HIS FATHER'S PLACE

Edward Morris, who succeeds his father, the late Nelson Morris, as the head of the big Chicago packing concern, was born in Chicago October 1, 1866. He received his education in the public schools of the city and embarked in business with his father in 1880. Rapid promotion followed and at the time of the death of Nelson Morris the son was vice president and treasurer of the company. He is also vice president and treasurer of the Fairbank Canning company, vice president of the Consumers' Cotton Oil company and a director of the National Packing company, A. M. Rothschild & Co. and the Union Rendering company. In addition to being an officer or director in various other companies Mr. Morris is a member of the Chicago board of trade. Mr. Morris is a member of the Mid-Day and Standard clubs and lives at 4155 Grand boulevard.

Mr. Morris, in becoming the head of the big packing company, will have charge of one of the largest business institutions in the country. His father came to the United States while a boy, with a cent of money in his pocket, and lived out for a mere pittance per week. He worked at the butcher trade and in no great while started in the meat business for himself, success crowning his efforts from the outset.

The attack on the meat trusts aroused the country but a short time ago, and the big combine is said to-day to be suffering from the notoriety it gained, and it is declared that the foreign trade of the meat barons has not yet recovered from the shock and exposure.

McCrea Picked for Long Trip

Capt. Henry McCrea, commanding the battleship Georgia, may not be included in the older officers who are to give way to younger blood on the battleships that are to make the long trip from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Capt. McCrea is an efficient officer, and only recently was commended by the president for his actions on the Georgia at the time of the explosion in which 21 of the ship's officers and crew were killed. Also the president, through Capt. McCrea, complimented the crew of the ship for its conduct during that fearful mishap.

Of the 18 officers now commanding the ships that are scheduled to take the long voyage, it is said only four, and with Capt. McCrea, only five, will be permitted to go.

Capt. McCrea is about 57 years old. He has been in the navy since 1866, when he was appointed to Annapolis from Indiana. As Lieut. Com. McCrea, of the United States gunboat Machias, which was sent to Panama to protect United States interests during the Panama rebellion, his prompt action at Colon prevented the bombardment of that town by the Colombians and saved much property and probably many lives. His discretionary powers while in command at Colon were wide, and his actions at various stages of the trouble met with the full approval of the state and navy departments.

He prevented the landing of troops for an attack on the town, which would have been extremely dangerous to the life and property of foreigners. It was due to a conference between Capt. McCrea and the commander of the Colombian gunboat, Gen. Pinzon, that an indefinite postponement of the proposed bombardment of the city was obtained. The ultimate result was that Panama achieved its independence with scarcely a shot fired or a drop of blood shed. Furthermore the United States was able at last to secure the Panama canal zone.

Undreamed-of Extravagance.
"We asked our wife the other day," writes the editor of the Hickory Ridge Messenger, "if she thought she could dress herself in $500 a year, and she turned pale and asked us if some rich uncle had died and left us an immense fortune."

FULFILLING A GREAT MISSION

Joseph H. Choate, in his address at the unveiling of the statue to his great cousin, Rufus Choate, in the Boston courthouse October 15, 1898, said, "Many a noted orator, many a great lawyer, has been lost in oblivion in 40 years after the grave has closed over him."

Today Joseph H. Choate seems to be in no great danger of oblivion. As one of America's delegates to the peace conference, he has been a commanding figure, and if the conference really accomplishes anything it will bear the strong impress of Mr. Choate.

Born on January 24, 1832, at Salem, Mass., of colonial stock on both sides, he graduated from the Dane Law school in 1854 and was admitted to the Massachusetts bar, but a year later went to New York and began an active life that has led to the sounding of his name around the globe. He became the leader of the New York bar and handled some of the largest and most important cases tried there and in the higher courts. Except as president of the New York constitutional convention of 1894, he had filled no public office, and, apparently, had applied to none. In the following year, however, he stepped upon the broader stage of national and international life, as ambassador of the United States at the court of St. James, the most important foreign station within the gift of the government.

IN LAW'S CLUTCHES AT LAST

John A. Benson, the wealthy San Francisco real estate dealer, who has just been sentenced to a long term of imprisonment for frauds against the government, is known as the king of the land grafters. The sentencing of Benson shows the beginning of the end of a man who, for more than 30 years, has been piling up thousands and tens of thousands of dollars by means of fraud, thievery and corruption.

Benson is nearly 70 years old, a jolly, jovial, genial sort of a man who wears a $100 suit of clothes as if it were a ten dollar "hand-me-down." Benson's downfall and exposure came when the report of the interior department was filed some time ago and he was charged with being the head of land swindlers operating over a dozen western states. After the report came the arrest.

Benson, however, was well known to the government at Washington, having been chased out of the capital not so very long after the war for being mixed up in some kind of a shady financial transaction. It was Benson's accuracy that caused his downfall. He was a surveyor and in making surveys for the government his work never showed an error. All the other surveyors had trouble at the end of their lines, but Benson—never. He had contracts for enrolling township after township, and the work called for the payment of hundreds of thousands of dollars to him. He collected, in fact, above a quarter of a million, and no mistakes in his work. An investigation followed and it was found that Benson was a clever thief—who sat in his office, made his maps and collected pay for work he hadn't done. He was indicted on 32 counts for that ingenious fraud, and he fled to Europe. Six years later he got into trouble at The Hague and was arrested. In his trunk were found copies of the 32 indictments against him and the authorities immediately communicated with the American officials. But so much time had elapsed since the discovery of the frauds that Benson got free on all counts.

But it was under the "Hou land" act, signed by President McKinley on June 4, 1897, that Benson was convicted. Benson's scheme was to send out dummies to get land from the government. In this he was assisted by his partner Hyde. The land was then turned over to Benson and Hyde. They ran out of names and advertised for help. The names of the applicants were used and more land obtained. They became bolder and bought up state officials essential to their schemes, and always got first whack at the state and school lands about to be incorporated in a forest reserve. When a bona fide entryman came along and contrived to get in ahead of them the state officials held up his entry until the swindlers could be notified and get a false claim filed. Those lands were later traded for public lands and Benson and Hyde thereby came into possession of vast and valuable tracts.

Then came the exposure, due to one of Hyde's subordinates writing the government a letter, and the arrest and conviction followed.

HUMOR THAT DIDN'T PAY.

Friends of the Deceased Were Wholly Unappreciative.

"Once in my early career," said a well-known New York magazine editor, "I owned and edited a more or less thrifty weekly newspaper. One of my features was country correspondence, and I prided myself on the accuracy of my rural aids. In one issue, from the best point on my list, I received a notice reading as follows: 'Mr. John Grady, having purchased a plot of ground in Machpelah some months ago, has now gone into real estate body and soul. John was always an enthusiast.' The item looked all right to me, and sounded quite enterprising, I thought; but a day or two after the paper had got around among the subscribers I received a letter of 'indignity.' In which almost took my breath away. It was duly informed that Mr. Grady was dead and buried in the Machpelah cemetery, where he had purchased a plot some three months previously. In conclusion, I may say that my correspondent at that point has since risen to prominence as a humorist, and I suppose most of you have read his stuff in various publications. But that item was not very funny for him, or for me, because he had to get another job far away, and I lost a dozen good subscribers."

LIVING BY THE COMPASS.

New and Quaint Theory That Is Held by French Mystic.

A quaint theory is that a French mystic, who holds that the four points of the compass have an influence on human health and well-being. Traveling westward, asserts this authority, induces melancholy; traveling eastward brings cheerfulness; southward languor and irritability, and northward calmness. It is a question of electrical currents, and the influence is felt not only when traveling, but also when at home. The best posture for working is to face either north or east, says the Frenchman. In these positions you receive positive waves of electricity, the negative currents coming from the other two points, south and west. Even the sleep is improved, it seems, if the foot of the bed be turned to the north or the east. To sleep in the contrary position induces nightmare and general uneasiness.

Tea Used as Medicine.

Before tea became cheap enough to be considered a drink it was largely used as a medicine. A familiar advertisement in the Tatler used to proclaim a "famous chymical quintessence of Rohea tea and cocumuts together, wherein the volatile salt, oil and spirit of both" formed "the highest restorative that either food or physic affords."

A Real Heroine.

Anyone who has had glimpses of the British coast with its high tides and precipitous cliffs can appreciate why "cut off by the tide" has always been a standard theme for British fiction. But none of the novelists have recorded an incident that surpasses in heroism the deed of Mrs. McNally, of Sligo bay, Ireland, who took seven children out among the rocks and was taken unaware by the rising water. She saw them on a little island and, though unable to swim, she rushed to their help. Two who could take in her arms, the rest she told to cling to her when ever they could get hold, and so the landward journey began. It was a close thing, but she brought all seven safe to land. If there are medals going to England she is entitled to a bunch.

Beautiful Eyes.

The almost universal habit of turning the head in whichever direction you look deprives the eye of the exercise to which it is entitled. The law of vision is such that, when your eyes are set straight to the front you can see in almost every direction, except behind your head. Every now and then you see a woman with eyes that seem to roll in their sockets, taking in everything without a suggestion of head movement. These are the eyes that drive men to distraction. Ox eyes. Honest eyes. Usually brown eyes. Open eyes. Altogether different from the small, ferret eyes of the detective, which pretend to be looking at the ground, yet see sideways out of both slits.

Duration of Animal Life.

A great variance as to length of life appears among different animals. Some insects live only for a few hours, while fish, elephants and turtles are frequently centenarians. The average life of the mosquito is three days. Tons usually live to the age of about 15 years, while carp have been known to reach a hundred and fifty. Chickens live from 12 to 15 years; dogs to the age of 10 and occasionally 15, and parrots to extreme age. These birds have been known to pass the age of 200 years. Turtles are also frequently centenarians, as are storks, and elephants are said to reach the age of 300 years.

Lightning in Role of Jailer.

In playing pranks about a house a bolt of lightning locked Wallace, four-year-old son of William J. Wheeler, in a closet at Worcester, Mass., but failed to release him again. The boy was in the house, when a bolt completely wrecked the dining room, forcing the windows out onto the lawn. He sought refuge in his favorite place, the cupboard, and had no sooner entered it than the bolt hit the door and locked it. He remained there until his parents came home and heard his shrieks for help.

SERPENT IN NEVADA LAKE.

Two Men Affirm That They Have Seen the Reptile.

A report from Walker lake states that a monster sea serpent has been seen at northern end of the lake. Dan Cornelson, a mining man of good reputation for veracity, brought the story to Goldfield. Cornelson says that both he and a companion named John McCorry sighted the reptile while fishing from a boat half a mile from the northern shore of the lake. The monster was then making its way toward the east shore of the lake. Cornelson says that at first sight he took the serpent for a man in a skiff, and when it disappeared for a moment he thought the boat had capsized, and rowed toward the spot, when it suddenly reappeared, giving them a good view of its proportions, which they estimated to be about 30 feet in length and 6 feet across the back. Another resident of that vicinity, a man named Peters, is said to have discovered the serpent sometime ago reposing in shallow water near the shore, and on being aroused it disappeared in deeper water. There is also said to be a legend among the Putes around Shurz concerning the existence of a serpent in Walker lake.—Sacramento Bee.

MACHINE WAS ALL RIGHT.

Figured So Well Merchant Decided That He Needed Two.

"Sir," said the man as he entered the office, "I wish to exhibit to you my universal calculating machine—a thing that should be found in the counting room of every business man. It will add, subtract, divide, multiply, and there is no such thing as failure." "I have heard of it," replied the merchant, "but I never understood it was much of a success." "O, sir, but it is perfect! Give me any example you will, and I will guarantee a correct solution." "Very well, I bought two dozen leghorn chickens at $3 each. I built a coop at an expense of $30. In one year I bought $25 worth of feed. In the same year I got six eggs. What was my profit or loss for the year?" "Why, you paid out $127 and got back about 20 cents. In actual figures, your loss was $126.80." "I guess that's correct," sighed the merchant, "and you may leave me two machines, I'll keep one busy on my chickens and the other figuring out how much profit I make in raising my own celery and cucumbers."

Boston Tot Asks a Blessing.

"And, dear Heavenly Father," finished a Boston child at prayer time, "please bless my cat. Bless every part of him, for I love him so much that the very whiskers of his face are numbered. Bless his emerald eyes, his little rice teeth, his crushed strawberry tongue and the little baked beans beneath his feet."

NATURE'S CAPITAL

It is related of the late Judge Conger, that he said to a farmer, who despoiled a tree which stood in front of the Judge's home, and when soundly berated for carelessness, offered to pay for it, that the Judge replied indignantly, "Pay for it! Pay for it! Do you imagine that you can pay for a tree which took God Almighty twenty years to grow?"

This spirit of appreciation is highly commendable, but exceedingly rare. The individual tree on the lawn may be uprooted, but the forests, one of Nature's great reservoirs, are ruthlessly destroyed, with knowledge of the fact that they can never be duplicated.

Nature has two kinds of assets. The sunshine which warms the soil, the rain which moistens it, the springs which gush out from the hillsides, the great waterways which float the ships of commerce, belong to what is known as fixed assets, which may not be disturbed by man's hand, nor destroyed by waste or extravagance.

The soil partakes of the same nature and continues to yield its increase, with proper care, after years of service.

But there is another class of assets, created and developed by the same divine power, which lack the recreative power, and once destroyed, they are destroyed forever.

Among these class are the oil fields, the coal beds, the mineral deposits, and the forests. These great natural reservoirs have been appropriated and drawn upon so heavily, that some of them are already exhausted. This is especially true of the forests. Before the next decade is passed an American forest will be a curiosity.

When the flowing gas wells were discovered in the oil fields of Pennsylvania, pipe lines were laid to neighboring cities, and fuel, as well as light, furnished at a nominal price, but to-day the supply is practically exhausted.

We are living, as a nation, not on Nature's income, but on Nature's capital, and there is always a time limit to this sort of extravagance.

The turpentine men of the south know and admit that their pine forests will be wiped out in ten years, but when questioned as to what the next generation will do, they shrug their shoulders and say, "What is that to us?" This is the spirit which possesses the nation, to large extent, and many advances in prices are due to natural causes, rather than to monopolies and combines.

Twice as much timber is used to-day, by the paper mills of the country, than is used for building purposes. One mill down in the Adirondack country, cuts 2000 acres a year, and this is only one of a long list of heavy consumers.

It is true that discovery has frequently come to the relief of exhausted supply. Iron and steel have taken the place of wood in heavy construction, while the cement block has helped out in lighter building.

Nothing has yet been found, however, to take the place of wood in paper, and when it is considered that a Sunday morning paper represents wood enough to heat the house for a day, it will be readily understood why the price of paper advances, for the supply of wood pulp is far below the demand.

Many people have a mania for fast trains, and automobiles which dash through the country at breakneck speed. The old world continues to revolve at the same old pace, but the time-table is too slow for us, and so we are paying liberally in exhausted resources and depleted energy to keep ahead of the procession.

THE PRESIDENT'S ATTITUDE

The President said in his St. Louis speech, yesterday:

"I am not pleading for an extension of constitutional power. I am pleading that constitutional power which already exists shall be applied to new conditions which did not exist when the constitution went into being."

I ask that the national powers already conferred upon the national government by the constitution shall be so used as to bring national commerce and industry effectively under the authority of the federal government and thereby avert industrial chaos.

"My plan is not to bring about a condition of centralization. It is that the government shall recognize a condition of centralization in a field where it already exists. When the national banking law was passed it represented in reality not centralization, but recognition of the fact that the country had so far advanced that the currency was already a matter of national concern and must be dealt with by the central authority at Washington."

"So it is with interstate industrialism and especially with the matter of interstate railroad operation today. Centralization has already taken place in the world of commerce and industry. All that is that the national government look this fact in the face, accept it as a fact, and fit itself accordingly for a policy of supervision and control over this centralized commerce and industry."

Anyone with eyes half open has recognized the fact that the tendency of the age, for the past decade, has been towards centralization. Five great railway systems practically control the railroads of the country, and many staple industries are in the hands of a few men.

These are the new and changed conditions to which the President refers. They are interstate in character, and if governed by laws at all they must be controlled by the national government.

Various states have attempted to regulate these interstate interests, and injustice as well as much confusion has resulted. The President believes that the time has come when the federal government should take general supervision of these centralized interests.

The railroads, as well as many of the large corporations, are convinced that safety and justice demand government control and supervision. Centralization demands centralized power, and this lies with the government, and is not possible to the several states.

A VETERAN WINS A PLACE

The last report on the all-time contest of the Century Road Club of America was issued in September by Chairman Tarbell, and shows that J. W. Heddon of Brooklyn, N. Y., still leads the other contestants. The surprise in the list is the fact that Thomas W. Davis of Peoria, Ill., who is eighty years of age, ranks fifth. Mr. Davis has made a national reputation by the devotion and interest he has shown in wheeling, at a period when many men would depend upon a wheel chair rather than a bicycle. In the mileage contest referred to, Ernest Grube of Brooklyn, is second; Joseph Nue of Jersey City, is third; and Harold E. Grube ranks fourth.

There's nothing like outdoor life to prolong life and preserve mental and physical vigor. The bicycle is better than wheel chair and it more generally used by men in advanced years the ranks of feeble old men would be materially thinned out.

The genial secretary of war seems to have captured Japan without effort. The same diplomacy, which made him a power at the national capital, is effective in Tokio. Taft is a large man, in every way, and the nation is fortunate in securing a representative who commands universal respect through marked ability combined with rare tact and good nature.

The visitors from the north woods, report the berry crop as very abundant, but the fruit is going to waste for lack of pickers. The Indians, who formerly monopolized the industry, have found an easier way to exist, and are now engaged in holding fairs up in the northern territory.

Next Movement in Art.

An art critic prophesies that the next movement of European art—which he thinks has exhausted the possibilities of realism—may take the form of a return to the principles enunciated by the Chinese 1,000 years ago.

Fatigue of Work Feels Good.

Rays a railroad man: "Men who grumble at work or fret about an eight hour working day forget that a man will be tired at the end of the day whether he works or not. The fatigue of work is much better than the fatigue of idleness, and there is no pleasure like that which comes from the consciousness of having accomplished something."

HEARING RESUMED
IN THE ARSON CASE

Heinsberger, The Hired Man, Was Principal Witness for the State
This Morning

In municipal court this morning the hearing of W. J. Clark, late tenant of the David Moore farm located a mile south of Afton, on the charge of willfully starting the fire which destroyed the barn, granary, corncrib, milkhouse and windmill on June 26, and at a subsequent date, the house was resumed. The hired-man, Heinsberger, was placed upon the stand. He testified that he was cultivating in the cornfield some distance southwest of the barn when the fire broke out. Just prior to this Clark came from the barn to the field and also started cultivating. He had gotten along about 50 rods when his wife called to him and he went back to the house. Heinsberger said that Clark told him about going up in the hayloft at the request of his wife and finding two pieces of bread and butter and two empty whiskey flasks, which convinced him that a tramp had just visited the premises. When a search was made in the outbuildings no tracks or traces of the mysterious stranger could be found. A shepherd dog, which had been chained in the driveway near the door of the barn was still there when the fire broke out.

During the forenoon of the day the house burned, witness said that Mr. Moore and a young man named George Sharp came to the premises. Clark for some reason or other had become suspicious that the house was short of money and he did not belong there and the four proceeded to make a search. After going through the rooms upstairs a chair was placed on a table under a trap door leading into the garret and when the others did not seem very anxious to climb up there, witness volunteered. After he had gotten on the chair and was ready to explore the garret, Clark handed him a lamp and a shot gun. He found nothing suspicious there.

Afterwards, during the interval which preceded the second outbreak of the flames, Clark was engaged in unloading a wagon sent and the vehicle was driven up close to the kitchen window.

TO REDUCE COST OF
ACCIDENT CLAIMS

Labor Commissioner Issues List Of Questions to Employers to Ascertain Facts.

To ascertain the facts in regard to the cost of present methods of settling personal injury claims resulting from accidents to injured workmen, Labor Commissioner J. D. Beck has sent out a set of questions to employers throughout the state asking them to reply. His object is to discover some means to reduce the cost of settling claims brought by employees against their employers. In the statement sent out Mr. Beck asks the following questions of employers:

- 1.—How many claims did you have in 1906 from injured employees?
- 2.—Do you carry employers' liability insurance?
- 3.—If you carry accident insurance for your employees, and if so, who pays the premium?
- 4.—Under your policy do you give medical aid only or full medical aid and hospital service?
- 5.—How much did you pay to employees' liability insurance companies in 1906?
- 6.—How much did you pay in premiums on account of accident insurance in 1906?
- 7.—How much did your workmen receive in 1906 as benefits or damages for accidents?
- 8.—How much did you pay in 1906 to employees on account of injuries directly without the intervention of an insurance company?
- 9.—Did you have any other expense, not including in the foregoing accounts such as attorneys' fees, from this class of cases in 1906?
- 10.—If so, how much?

GOOD RACING SHOWS
SPIRIT IS NOT DEAD

Good Crowd Witness Races at Fair
Grounds Yesterday—Joe Bassett's
Narrow Escape.

Janesville horse owners and lovers of good horse flesh to the number of four hundred enjoyed a series of interesting races at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon. It demonstrated that the ideas of the promoters of the county fair project was not in vain and that Janesville still enjoyed horse racing as much as ever. A blue, owned by Dr. G. O. Cleophas of Beloit won the 2:30 trot, Earlvol, owned by James Conway of Edgerton was second and Grease of this city, owned by H. S. Ames was third. Kate Howe, owned by H. D. McKinney also ran best time 2:29. In the two thirty race an accident occurred in the first heat and the rest of the horses were withdrawn. Sullivan, driven by Joe Bassett of Clinton, slipped and turned completely over, throwing Bassett from the rig and bruising him slightly. The animal was the property of Lafayette Myers of the Rock County State Farm, owned by J. D. McKinney. The race, owned by J. D. McKinney, was the winner first and Chesnut, the property of Horatio Nelson, was second. The time was 2:34. In the free for all pace three horses started, Kate A, owned by James Conway of Edgerton, winning both heats and Chuck Alford, property of Michael Conway of the Tobacco City and Cherry Howe owned by Charles Schaller, divided and second and third places. The best time was 2:25.4.
Edwin P. Carpenter acted as starter and W. H. Appleby, Frank L. Smith and D. W. Watt of this city, and Mr. Tallard of Edgerton acted as time keepers.

EAGLE ORDER POPULAR

Many Candidates Entering Lodge—
Benefits Are Numerous.

The Eagle lodge will hold the second of a series of initiations at its hall in the Eagle block this evening, at which time 20 new members will be made. The order is taking a strong hold upon the community. Its principles and the benefits offered are very attractive, and seem to bind the members together for mutual help and protection as few other orders do. The following are some of the reasons advanced which attract new members:

1. Why I am a member of Janesville Fraternal Order of Eagles—
1. It gives the largest sick benefit—$7.00 per week for thirteen weeks.
2. It gives the largest death benefit—$100 in case of death.
3. It furnishes yourself and family physicians' services free.
4. It has the best hall and best athletic room.
5. It helps a brother quickest when in need.
6. It is an organization in which the most good fellowship exists.
7. It furnishes all of those things for 10 cents per month.
8. You should join for yourself and family's benefit.
9. Give your application now, to any member.

FIRE MARSHAL AT FIVE CENT THEATRE

Thomas M. Purcell Looked Over
Picture Machine Booths Last Night and Ordered Them Lined With Asbestos.

State Fire Marshal Thomas M. Purcell who is watching the trial of the arson case in municipal court, last night made an inspection of the two five cent theatres and directed that the elevated booths containing the moving picture machines should be lined with asbestos. Thirty seconds exposure of any portion of the celluloid film to the powerful light turned upon it, means ignition and perhaps an explosion, and the attention of these machines and woodwork enclosures near the exits makes the safeguarding of the people against possible danger imperative. The managers of both amusement places agreed to have the asbestos lining installed immediately.

DISTRICT CONVENTION OF REBEKAS HERE

Over One Hundred Visiting Members
Here From Cities in This District
—State Officers Present.

At 1:30 this afternoon the convention of the twenty-third district of the Daughters of Rebekah convened in the West Side Odd Fellows hall. Dinner was served at noon and supper will be spread for the out-of-town guests tonight at 6 o'clock. Over 100 members of the organization are here from out of the city for the convention including the state president, Mrs. Alice Barrett, of Baraboo, state vice president, Mrs. Emma Lamb, of Waupun, and district president Mrs. Loomer, of Whitewater. J. A. Patters, an Odd Fellow of high standing in the state, made an address of welcome upon the opening of the session this afternoon. Mrs. Loomer, president of the district organization, responded in behalf of the visiting members. A social session will be held this evening, and a program of music and speaking having been prepared. The twenty-third district includes the lodges at Whitewater, Dubuque, Milton, Monroe, Milton Junction, Beloit and the two local lodges, Janesville 171 and American 26. Among those registered here from out of the city are Currie L. Cadman, S. H. Howell, Ella E. Rogers, Alice Brooks, Juliette Karstened, E. Billington, Nellie Briggs, Martha Labbe, Ella Brown, Louise Wilcox, Roxie Johnston, Lizzie Johnston, of Beloit; Wilfred Munson, Fannie Fulton, Harriet L. Claffee, Harriet Conrad, Julia Ball, of Whitewater; Jennie L. Howard, of Albany; Mary A. O'Neill and Elsie T. Premier, of Delevan.
The session of the quarterly meeting will close tonight with the social.

THE FIRST BANKER merely furnished a safe place to leave money and other valu-

has developed, has taken new

but the first cause for a bank is still the main thing the public requires—a safe place for its money. We furnish that. We lend money, pro-

What Does "Best" Mean to You?
When stores are talked of?

Best service is it not? Best usefulness in filling your individual need? It is along the line of public service that this store strives to be best. We have made the building pleasant in looks. We have spent much time in working out its most convenient arrangement. We have put the best people to be had at the head of each department and keep them up on tip toe, that every minute of every day you may depend upon the best they can do. Nothing less than the very "best" will do. We shouldn't deserve to have and hold the chief favor of Rock county people otherwise, we are holding it; we mean to.

THE BIG ANNIVERSARY SALE

HOSIERY WANTS

Met here, no matter what they are, quickly and satisfactorily—economically for we have a complete line of Lord & Taylor's Hosiery and can please and fit you whether you want to pay 15c, 25c, 60c, or up to $1.50.

Starts here Saturday morning, October 5th, at Janesville's greatest of Department Stores. This old store commenced selling merchandise to the people of Rock County 34 years ago. It is merit that has made this store grow faster than any other store in Wisconsin and to commemorate our birthday we inaugurated a 14 DAYS SALE OF EXTRAORDINARY PRICING. It is seldom indeed that circumstances and conditions enables us to offer in a sale, such an unlimited number of special and extraordinary values. If there exists in your mind any doubt whatever as to what concern gives the greatest values, then study the offerings here mentioned. In this store you can depend upon the quality—you can depend upon prices being lower—stocks greater—assortments more varied—attention better and service of all kinds more satisfactory than anywhere else.

Every price means a distinct saving to YOU. Every offering is positively of such unusual character as to make the finding of equal value elsewhere out of the question. Investigation on your part will prove this to be an absolute certainty. Attend every day of this Anniversary Sale—Remember the date, Saturday, October 5th, 1907.

SILK PETTICOATS

Of brilliant, rustling tulle, extra wide flounce, ruffled and accented on pleated, also fancy plaids and for this Anniversary Sale we offer $7.50 values for Saturday's selling at only ..... $5

Women's High Grade Suits and Coats

Here are Anniversary Sale bargains that the sternest judges of values would pronounce wonderful, because they're marked at about one-third their actual value for the choicest of the fall season's Suits and Coats—The White House is the home of "popular prices"—every garment is made in the best possible manner.

You'll find the new three-quarter length, medium length, half fitted, loose, straight front, cutaway and plain tailored Suits to select from—"An unheard of price for such splendid Suits and Coats"—that will be your opinion when you see them—the grandest collection of fine tailored garments in Janesville and at the lowest prices ever offered at the threshold of the season. Here's how the prices range for the Anniversary Sale—Of course early choice is the best.

Women's Coats $6.95, $9.95, $11.95, $14.75 and many special values $23.75 up to $45.00.

Women's Suits $14.75, $19.50 on up to $39.00.

MISSSES AND CHILDREN'S COATS

New fall garments—at very low prices—all are beautifully trimmed and the values extraordinary during the Anniversary Sale. Every mother should visit the great cloak department on the second floor before buying. The sale prices begin at $2.95 and range up to $14.75.

NOTICE--STOVE BUYERS

The coming 14 days we expect to do the largest stove business ever recorded in this locality. The Bargains we offer cannot fail to attract those who want to buy steel ranges, cast ranges, cook stoves, base burners, furnaces or heaters. This Big Anniversary Sale comes right in the height of the stove buying season and we advise every buyer to attend this sale—come Saturday, if possible—we invite you to see the Largest Stock of Reliable Stoves there is in The State. Here you'll find the World's best Stoves—such as the Jewel base burners, ranges and furnaces.

Charlesagne Tower

Hon. Charlesagne Tower, the American ambassador to Germany, was born at Philadelphia on April 17th, 1818, and was educated at the Military Academy of New Haven, Conn.
He afterwards attended Harvard university where he graduated in 1872.
He then traveled in Europe from 1872 until 1876 and next studied law
in Philadelphia. He married Miss Helen Smith at Oakland, California, in 1888. He was admitted to the practice of law in 1878. He lived for a time at Duluth, Minn., and is a member of the Institute of Mining Engineers. He was first made minister to Austria-Hungary and next ambassador to Russia, whence he was transferred to Germany in 1902.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. No think of dyspepsia, acidities, and indigestion as true diseases, yes
they are symptoms only of a certain specific disease—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the treatment of that now very popular stomach trouble—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach's trouble alone brought that surrounding and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. With out that original and mighty vital principle, no such lasting results were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, indigestion and all other ailments, try Dr. Shoop's

SWITCHMEN WANT 6 CENTS MORE AN HOUR

Chicago Conference Called to Demand
More Money For Employees In The Northwest.

Demands have been made by the Switchmen's Union of America upon all railroads entering in St. Paul and Minneapolis for an increase in wages of 6 cents an hour.

Circulars have also been sent out to the chairmen of all switchmen's grievance committees for the railroads entering Chicago to meet there October 12 to consider the relevance of the switchmen in the Northwest.

Railroad officials have announced that they will make a fight. The Chicago standard of wages are paid in the Northwestern cities. These are:
Night foremen, 37 cents an hour;
night helpers, 34 cents; day foremen, 35 cents; day helpers, 33 cents. Should the switchmen secure the increase or a portion of it in the Northwestern cities, it is said that they will make the same demands in Chicago. This is intimated by James H. Connor, their international vice-president.

The Switchmen's Union of America has agreements with these roads entering Chicago. The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which also has jurisdiction in its membership, has contacts with about a dozen roads. A number have no contracts. If the railroads should refuse an increase in the Northwest and a strike is called,
the switchmen say there is no telling where the trouble will end. The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen will not take part in the proposed conference, its officials state.

STEPS FROM ONE TRACK TO ANOTHER AND IS KILLED

While pulling a freight train through Des Plaines, Ill., Tuesday afternoon
the engine in charge of Engineer (Tom) Danzon, of this city, ran down and killed the flagman at a crossing in that city. The flagman was in the act of getting off a track on which a passenger train was approaching when he stepped on the other track in front of the freight train and was killed. The accident occurred about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Brinkman Nell Henegany is on the sick list.

Arthur Young, an engineer where at the roundhouse, departed this morning on a month's visit in the east.

Engine 719 was called off the work
train yesterday and sent to Chicago.
Engine 372 was put on the train.

Gas Schumacher is tending to the switches at the Five Points crossing.

The fourth work train was not put in service at the new yards today as was expected because of the shortage of an engine.

Point.

Engineer Fred Meyer and Fireman Jellyman went east on an extra freight train this morning.

RINK OPENS WITH A THOUSAND PRESENT

Popularity of the Sport on Rollers Is Proven by the Attendance Last Night.

James Connors of the West Side
Skating rink was fearful lest Janesville people had forgotten the use of rollers. He was surprised last night when a thousand persons attended the opening night of the roller season for November Seven and Eight. The building was decorated tastefully with bunting and flags and an orchestra played soul inspiring music. The floor was in excellent shape and the skate boys were kept busy supplying the customers with the skates.

PLANTZ LAUGHS AT BEING A BISHOP

President of Lawrence University Says Nothing Will Come of His Endorsement.

Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence University, in discussing the report that the Methodist conference, which met in Milwaukee last week, would recommend that he be made a bishop, said today that the matter is misunderstood. He says the Eastern Wisconsin conference has no power to officially recommend any one for the position of bishop and took no action officially or otherwise in reference to this matter. Dr. Plantz was believed to treat the matter lightly.

"The whole thing," said Dr. Plantz,
"was probably due to a sort of joke.
You know Wisconsin has no Methodist bishop and some of the delegates said they heard there was going to be a movement started to have a bishop
for this state."

According to the Ruling of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals
At Chicago Yesterday.

In the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago yesterday afternoon J. J. Cunningham, E. H. Ryan, and M. P. Richardson argued a motion for the dismissal of the appeal in the Charles E. Lagerman bankruptcy case.
The court gave an affirmative decision and the property will be divided pro rata among the creditors. Lagerman formerly operated a saloon on North Main street and was declared a bankrupt last November. A dispute among the creditors with regard to the distribution of $788 resulted in legal conflict at Janesville, Madison and Chicago.

PRESS COMMENT.

Is Still Preferable To Rose.

Milwaukee Free Press: Sheride has done ten times as much to make people talk about Milwaukee as Rose did during his long tenure of office. And that is not all of it; what the people are saying is a dead phenomenon to hear that it used to be when Rose was mayor.

Mr. Becker may not be exactly a model mayor. He may be rather too much of a kid. It may not be in him to be anything but a kid. But there was the good thing about his election, that he, and not Rose, was elected. Milwaukee can put up with a good deal of nonsense from him because he, and not Rose, was elected.

The Transmission of Wireless Power.

Chicago Examiner: On the heels of Marconi's promise of a transatlantic wireless service comes the news from France that Auguste Villy has discovered a means for the wireless transmission of power. A miniature railroad car was propelled a distance of two hundred yards by force from an electrical transmitter.

If this is true, it is a discovery that will revolutionize the power engines of the world. By wireless power trains may be run, submarines of war steered against an enemy's ships, sewing machines set whirling, automobiles run and factories kept busy.
In short, the entire world may become electrified, if we may coin a word.

For years scientists have been working to attain this end. When it is accomplished, the electrical understanding will be near—what time when man will have harnessed the mighty electrical energy of the sun.

Across the State By Boat.

Madison Journal: The Marinette
Eagle-Star hopes to see the Fox and Wisconsin rivers improved scheme revived. It believes the present enthusiasm in favor of improved navigation on inland waters promises to reach the two rivers named. It recalls much interesting history to give a newspaper reference of this day to the Fox and Wisconsin improvement.

The father of Wisconsin based large hopes upon the navigation that was to be established between Green Bay and the Mississippi through the Fox and Wisconsin. In the Portage Canal, which is now but a stagnant pool,
and in the record of the canal
these hopes.

The reference of the Eagle-Star to the ancient enterprise may not be as entirely as it at first seems. To really establish navigation for the large vessels of today, is probably out of the question but there is no reason why the old route, the route which Marquette and Joliet, Radisson and Groesbeek made famous may not, by putting to use the stagnant canal, become a great pleasure waterway.

What a trip it would make for a hundred or small sail boat to go from Green Bay through the lower and upper Fox, Lake Winnebago, the Portage canal and the Wisconsin river,
across the entire state to the Mississippi! It certainly is worth thinking about.

What the Ministry Is.

After much obscurity, brought by disappointing theological and ecclesiastical conditions of late years thought seems to be moving toward a clearer view of what the ministry is. It is coming to be seen in its relation to humanity rather than in its relation to the church. Herbert the minister has been too much regarded as the official and creature of the church.
And young men with splendid gifts and glorious aspirations have often faded at that thought and, suspicious of priesthood, have preferred to cast in their lot with untrammeled humanity. But when the ministry is seen as,
first of all, a part of the essential life
of humanity, an answer to a yearning need in the soul of the world, a prophet's voice uttering for men what they have not uttered for themselves, and showing men a glory in God that they have not seen for themselves—
then the choice flower of our youth,
having the sense of this vocation born
within them, shall no longer hesitate, and the propheta of the highest shall be multiplied.

C. C. HALL, in the Oct. Atlantic.

AN OLD SHOW MAN ON VISIT TO THE CITY

Hugh Coyle Who First Saw Janesville
In 1881 With the Ten Thousand Dollar Beauty Here.

"I will never forget Janesville," said
Hugh Coyle a veteran show and circus man at the Myers hotel this morning.
"For it was here in 1881 while I was with Adam Forepaugh that we did the biggest business of any Wisconsin city with our ten thousand dollar beauty." Mr. Coyle is manager for Louis Morrison who appears at the Myers theatre on Saturday and now makes his home in Chicago. He served four years in the navy previous to the civil war, enlisted as an ambulance driver during that great struggle, escaped from the field of Ball Run by getting lost, was later a Major in the service and was coming out of General Morgan's tent at Camp Stoneham
at the moment when John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of President Lincoln, rode through the camp in his attempt to escape. He was in Spring field, Illinois, when Hancock's brigade was discharged from the service and saw the Pentium gathering up the arms they were later to attempt to use in their ill fated rebellion. Mr.
Coyle has many interesting anecdotes to relate and firmly believes that Chicago is today the greatest dramatic producing center of the world.

TWO ALDERMEN SAW WORK ON NEW ROAD

Alderman Bucholz and Merritt Spend
Several Hours With Government Officials At Clinton.

"I never spent a more interesting four hours than I did yesterday when Alderman Merritt and myself visited Superintendent Cooley and his workmen on the quarter mile of road near Clinton," said Alderman Bucholz this morning. Mr. Buch-olz and Mr. Merritt went to Clinton yesterday and thoroughly inspected the work being done by the Government as a demonstration of how rural roads should be built. It was originally planned that all the council should go but had roads prevented and only two went. "The work was explained to us in detail from start to finish," said Mr. Bucholz. "Mr. Cooley showed us how he began with an excavation of eight inches and then filled with three grades of stone. First a coarse stone which is thoroughly rolled, then a little finer material and last the screencrusher which settle down and bind thoroughly the road bed." It is too bad that more of the aldermen could not have witnessed the work as it is a great object lesson for everyone interested in good roads.

Of Interest To School Teachers.

In the October Lippincott's there is a story called "Miss Carmichael and the Janitor," by Adele Marie Shaw, which should be of especial interest to school-teachers and, in fact, to all who have anything to do with our public school system. The tale describes the encounter between a slinky young schoolmarm and a man with a "pull"—a regrettable state of affairs which has many a counterpart in real life, though not always with such startling results. Another feature which should attract the attention of pedagogues in Fred G. Hoyle's paper on "Military Training in the Public Schools." The anecdote in this issue is an exceptionally fine
one. It is called "A Whited Sepulchre," and the plot is based on sometimes happenings in Marlborough at the time of the eruption of Mount Pelee.
The author is Will Livingston Comfort, who in his capacity of press correspondent was awarded an excellent opportunity of studying at first hand
the conditions under which he writes.
In addition to the foregoing, there are half a dozen other clever short stories, four or five essays on timely topics, some really good poetry, and the usual department of humor, "Walnuts and Wine." Altogether, those who buy the October Lippincott's will find it a very satisfactory investment.

SLACK MINE BEGINS TO LOOK VERY GOOD

Janesville People Have Hopes of the Mine Becoming A Large Producer.

Janesville people who are interested in the Slack mine will be pleased to hear that the mine is now in full working order, producing a high grade of black jack and lead. Mr. F. H. Huch spent last Tuesday on the ground and reports that the day's run with a limited force of men was six tons of jack and 3500 pounds of lead. The market on the latter recently declined from $30 to $28 a ton, and the general disposition is to hold the ore for better prices. "The Slack" seems to have passed the experimental period, and with a good ore in sight, should develop one of the best mines in the district.

River Shannon.

The river Shannon in Ireland has its source in the carboniferous mountains of Fermanagh and Leitrim, and flows southward through Lough Allen, Lough Ree and Lough Derg, to Limerick, where it opens out into a wide estuary and takes a westerly course to the ocean. Its total length is 230 miles, and it drains an area of 4514
square miles.

Returned the Salute.

A traveler who visited the small Hilbert town of Knapp tells how surprised he was by an incident in the theater. The first actress who made an appearance on the stage bowed to the audience, whereupon the whole gathering rose as one man and returned the bow in the most polite manner.
Read the word ada.

"IN SOME DARK HIDING PLACE THOU'ST ENJOYED AMONGST THE OUTCAST AND THE WILDS AND WILDS ACCURSED"

It is a remarkable fact that many of the plays that have been presented in the past few years have not been successful, because theatre goers desire productions that are elevating, instructive, humorous and enjoyable
in all respects.
Few plays in recent years have up-pealed to the public as strongly as Goethe's immortal masterpiece Faust.

It is a play that portrays vividly
the good in contrast with the bad, and in its ability to rouse and hold heart interest is found the reason for its immortality.
Mr. Louis Morrison, as "Mephisto," supported by an excellent company, combined with a complete scenic and grand electrical production, will present Faust at the Myers Theatre on Saturday, October 5. Matinee and Evening.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research.
Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the buried-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Tropicide kills the dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundance.

Tropicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market today.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamp for sample to The Tropicide Co.,

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

"Well, my boy, do you ever fight?"
"I haven't got a brother."—Tatler.

Compliment.

"Oh, Professor Witzley, I do so admire your long beard!"
"Thank you, Miss Clusum. It is not often one finds a young person who possesses the proper veneration for the marks of age."
"But I do admire it. I often think what a beautiful mull it would make."—Chicago Tribune.

A Riddle.

Mrs. Nixey—Why don't you go to work?
Ennied Edgar—Er—I never could guess riddles, ma'am. Won't do any good?—Lodlo's Weekly.

Modern Hygiene.

The Doctor—Yes, the lungs are perfectly sound, and the heart beats are quite regular. You can eat that bird with every confidence.

Presence of Mind.

Mrs. de Flatts—All is over between us. I shall go back to mother at once.
Mr. de Flatts—Quite so. As you please, of course, but would you mind putting a stitch in my braces before you go?

Rich Relations.

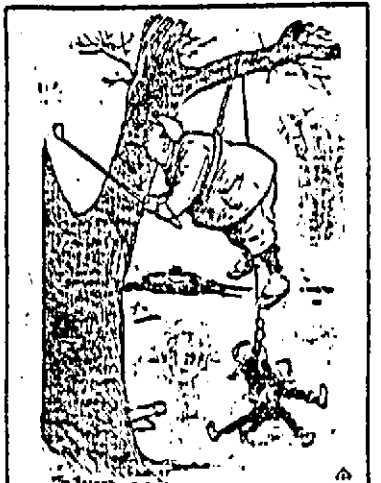

"How rich, isn't he?"
"Not only relatively so. It's his poor who have the money."

Willie—Say, pop, a posse some bandits caught me. Would you pay a ransom to get her back?
Father—After they had her for a week they would pay me to take her back.—Washington Post.

Rules and Etiquette of Golf.

"A ball lying in the fork of a tree must be played for the player shall lose a stroke."

To Save Her Voice.

Lady (to new cook)—But, Mary, what's the matter? What have you got that yell on for?
Cook—Sure, ma'am, I don't want to have my complexion spoiled while I'm cooking.

A Swift Answer.

Papa (literary, who has given orders he is not to be disturbed)—Who is it?
Little Daughter—Scarcely anybody, dear papa!

St. The Measure of It.

"Oh, yes, Crookitt has been in politics in our town for years, and he's been wonderfully successful too."
"You don't say?" Strange I never heard of him."
"You would have been more likely to hear of him if he had been unsuccessful. I refer to his success in keeping out of jail."—Philadelphia Press.

Duty Before All.

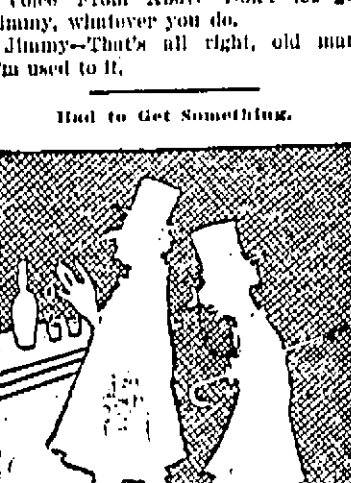

Officer—It's no use you hiding, sir. I must have your name and address.

Voices From Above—Don't let go, Jimmy, whatever you do.
Jimmy—That's all right, old man, I'm used to it.

Had to Get Something.

Himn—When we played in Squeedunk last week every seat in the house was taken.
Fatt—Yes, I suppose the people had to get something for their money.—New York World.

A Stove Lifter.

Nerve.

Bravo Duck—Excuse me, sir, but would you mind stepping off my foot? I wish to get out at the next corner.
Mr. Beetle—Oh, that's all right, boss. That's my corner too.—Woman's Home Companion.

His Phonetic Discipline.

Dear Andrew—I hide, you know, on spelling many words ago since we've had no other.

—New York Herald.

Evidence in Proof.

Brown—Yes, they say that every thing Smith earns goes on his wife's back.
Jones—Well, evidently he does not earn much.

SENATOR BORAH IS FOUND NOT GUILTY

ACQUITTED OF CONSPIRACY TO DEFAUD GOVERNMENT.

END OF TRIAL AT BOISE

Citizens Greet the Verdict with Cheers, Bells Are Rung and Band Plays "Hail to the Chief."

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 4.—United States Senator William E. Borah was acquitted Wednesday night of the charge of conspiracy to defraud the government out of valuable Idaho timber lands. The case was submitted without argument on the part of the defense and the jury was out just long enough to take one ballot. The verdict was greeted by cheers and applause which the court officers made no effort to restrain. This demonstration in the courtroom served only as a beginning. As soon as the news reached the outside bells were rung and the fire department made a spectacular run through the principal streets, stopping eventually at the Idaho hotel, to which Senator Borah, surrounded by several hundred of his fellow citizens, was escorted.

A brass band appeared as if by magic, and the senator reached the hotel steps, and played "Hail to the Chief."

Borah Thanks the People. The streets about the hotel were blocked by a cheering throng, whose shouts mingled the screech of the fire engine whistles and clanging of trolley car bells.

Senator Borah thanked the people for their demonstration and for the confidence they had reposed in him throughout the trial. "I have felt the humiliation deeply," he continued, "especially because of the manner in which the name of my dear friend, Frank Steiensenberg, has been brought into the case. I am glad to say I was his friend—the friend of a man who gave up his life for his state and his country. Political capital has been or tried to be made out of my indictment, but I am glad to say some of my staunchest friends during this trial have come from the other side. The only reason I was indicted appears to have been that I was the friend of Frank Steiensenberg." The demonstration over the acquittal continued until late in the night, with street parades, band concerts, fireworks and general celebration.

THEATERS ON OCEAN LINERS.

Cunard Company Accepts Proposition of Charles Frohman.

Liverpool, Oct. 3.—It was announced Wednesday that the Cunard Steamship company had accepted the offer of Charles Frohman to give theatrical performances on the big liners by regular players, who, for the time being, may be traveling to and from the United States and England. The company is now planning specially designed halls for plays and concerts on board three of the ships of the line. Other transatlantic line companies are considering Mr. Frohman's proposition.

Chicago Gets Billiard Tourney. New York, Oct. 3.—The amateur national billiard championship tournament goes to the Chicago Athletic association. This was decided Wednesday night by the 20 delegates at the meeting of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players at the Liederkranz club. The tournament will be held in March, 1908.

Georgia River Steamer Burns. Albany, Ga., Oct. 3.—The steamer Raymond II. was burned in Flint river Wednesday at Jones Landing between Albany and Newton. The cargo of cotton naval stores, and cotton used was destroyed. Two negroes jumped into the river and were drowned.

ITCH IN THE SKIN, NOT IN THE BLOOD

People With Eczema, Etc., Make Grievous Error by Taking Medicine into the Stomach.

When your hands are scalded with hot water until it blisters and burns, you don't drink medicine to cure it. You apply a healing lotion to the injured skin.

Eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, barber's itch, and other such diseases of the skin cannot be cured by filling the stomach with medicine any more than you can cure a burn by drinking medicine. To cure these diseases you must apply the remedy on the part affected. The diseases named are caused by germs in the skin. Kill the germs and the disease goes away and the skin is left pure and white as nature intended it to be.

That mild, simple liquid oil of wintergreen, properly compounded in D. D. D. Prescription kills the germs and heals the skin so perfectly that you can never tell where the disease was.

"No tongue can tell you nor pen portray what I suffered for ten years from Eczema," writes Mrs. R. B. Latimer of Harrison, Mo. "It was treated by the best doctors in the west, but received no benefit. Three bottles of D. D. D. cured me sound and well. Six or eight months have passed and there is no sign of a return. My advice to all is, don't delay. Begin the use of D. D. D. at once and be cured."

We have carried D. D. D. for a long time because we know it takes away the itch and we believe it to be an infallible remedy in the treatment of Eczema and other skin diseases.

SLEEPING CAR IN A BLAZE.

Panic Among Passengers at Cleveland—Station Master Burned.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 3.—While entering the Union station in this city Wednesday night a sleeping car attached to Big Four train No. 14, going east, was derailed and caught fire and was badly damaged as the result of an explosion of one of the gas tanks. The interior of the car was almost instantly in flames, causing a panic among the passengers.

Station Master William Miller, who assisted in rescuing the passengers, was seriously if not fatally burned, but it is believed all the passengers escaped without serious injury. The passengers were transferred to another coach and proceeded east.

Fatal Fall Down Smokestack.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 3.—One man is dead, one probably fatally injured and two others seriously hurt as a result of a peculiar accident at the plant of the Chattanooga Electric company Wednesday. The men were working on a scaffold 75 feet from the ground and on the inside of a huge smokestack, when the scaffold broke, the men falling to the ground.

Daughters of America Adjourn.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 3.—The annual convention of the Daughters of America closed Wednesday with the election of officers and the adoption of a resolution protesting against the indiscriminate immigration of paupers and criminals. Next year's convention will be held at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Fairbanks in Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 3.—Vice President Fairbanks spent Wednesday in Louisville, having visited the city for the purpose of attending the horse show. He was the guest of John Middleton, who gave a luncheon in his honor.

Building Falls, Three Killed.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 3.—Three men were killed and two were fatally injured by the collapse of a new building in Spickard, Mo., Wednesday.

The Profitable Lessons.

It generally happens in the stories that the good fairy first appears as a repulsive old hag. The lessons that are likely to be most valuable to us are seldom enjoyable when we are learning them.

Wanted Half a Spool.

A small boy asked the clerk for a spool of cotton. The boy had only 1 cent and the clerk informed him that 2 cents was the price for the cheapest cotton. "Can't you sell me half a spool?" asked the boy.
